Quick Listen: Scrip's Five Must-Know Things

by Ian Haydock

In this week's podcast edition of Five Must-Know Things: safety debate as more lecanemab data reported; amyloid discussions continue at Alzheimer's meeting; China COVID unrest affect country's biotech sector; and Merck's CMO talks about post-Keytruda plans.

Join us for an audio catch-up on the major events in the biopharma industry over the past business week, as reported by Scrip's global team, in this podcast version of Five Must-Know Things.

This episode covers insights for the business week ended 2 December 2022, including: safety debate as more lecanemab data reported; amyloid discussions continue at Alzheimer's meeting; China COVID unrest affect country's biotech sector; and Merck & Co., Inc.'s CMO talks about post-Keytruda plans. (Note - only four stories are covered this time as one selection – on Blenrep's US withdrawal - was inadvertently selected again this week after being covered in last week's episode. Our sincere apologies for this.)
